Positive comments:

- The thing I liked about it is...
- My favorite part is...
- Probably the most memorable thing is...

Negative comments:

- I thought the acting was terrible
- The story didn't make sense
- The ending was stupid
- It wasn't realistic

Example:

Simon X plays a heartbroken Doctor named Kyle in the new series Blablabla. At the start of the series, he is struggling to cope with the death of his wife. Anyway, he gets a new job at a good hospital and gets a reputation for being very fair-minded and caring. He's a really likable main character, and even though his story is quite tragic, he's got a great sense of humor. He's always quick to use a sarcastic remark with his colleagues. Maybe because of his own loss, he's able to sympathize with people who are struggling and console them. So, my favorite part of the whole series is his character. The only thing I don't really like is that many of the episode plots are a bit repetitive and predictable. I would still recommend it though.

Assignment:

Talk about a TV series or movie that you've seen recently. Explain the premise without giving away every detail of the story, describe the main character, and then share both the good things and bad things about it.
